ELKS INITIATION. ON NOVEMBER 19

AT a meeting of the Elks Lodge on Thursday last, it was decided to put on a big initiation ceremony on the evening of Monday Nov. 19th. The members of Calgary Lodge, No. 4, and their patrol will conduct the service while members from the neighboring Lodges of Trochu and Three Hills will be present. There are thirty-two new applicants to be initiated that evening and it is expected that all members will turn out for this occasion.

A big dance will be held that evening, November 19th in the Farmer's Exchange hall and everyone is cordially invited to attend the admission charge being $1.00 per couple, extra lady 50c. A real snappy Elks Orchestra is being engaged to play the music for this dance, so you won't be disappointed in the good time you will expect. It is the intention of those in charge to have the initiation ceremony to commence early in the evening, and have the dance start at 9 p. m. So remember the date and the time.

HESKETH MASQUERADE DRAWS LARGE CROWD

The Masquerade dance, held at the Hesketh Community Hall on Friday, Nov. 2nd, was a well attended affair and a large crowd was present from the surrounding district, testifying to the popularity of this event. Many pretty and varied costumes were seen, and the contrast was even greater with the decorated hall as a background.

The music for the evening was furnished by a Drumheller orchestra, and was all that could be wished for in its line.

The proceeds of this dance went towards the community hall fund and it is expected that a goodly sum will be realized after all expenses are paid.

Explanations and Comments

A Call To Consecration For Service, verses 1 and 2.—The meaning of these two long verses has been aptly expressed in these brief words: In view of all that God has done for us, we should henceforth live for him. The One Volume Commentary paraphrases the verses thus: God's redeeming love should be answered by the true sacrifice and spiritual, ritual service of a life of purity and self-denial and work for God. Do not follow the fashion and customs of the worldly society around you, but let your ways of thinking be so changed by the Holy Spirit that you look for and recognize God's will and love to do it.

"Present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God." "No maimed or crippled thing might be offered to God by the Jewish law. If we would devote ourselves to God, we must see to it that we have a self to devote. Self-consecration is not a negative thing; it is a very positive thing. Even our Lord said in His high-priestly prayer: 'For their sakes I consecrate Myself.' Self-consecration is the most effectual way in which we can serve God in our generation. That is the way in which the torch has been handed down by a long succession of runners since the Gospel of Christ came into the world. Ask yourselves how you have been helped by others. You will find, I think, that the occasions have been most trivial that the words spoken and the things done have been slight and unpremeditated. They have been sidelights upon the person's character, peeps into the inner life of one whose mind is kept in perfect peace because it rests on God; of one who sees God because his heart is pure. It is the sudden sting of self-reproach, the shame of the contrast, the longing to be like such a one, that sends a man to his knees as soon as he is alone. Sometimes when such a man or woman dies we learn for the first time, not without surprise, what he or she has been to many. Such persons have laid up a rich store of gratitude for being what God has helped them to be."—R. W. Inge.

"Can I cook?" repeated Andy. "I ask me can I cook! That's me first name; that's me profession. I've cooked on sailing ships, steamboats, in camps, in the Army, an' I did thirty days in Sydney jail, and blame me if they didn't make me 'ead cook. I was so good they wanted me to stay."

"You're hired; Andy," said Douglas decidedly. "But isn't it going to be pretty tough to quit the boxing game for cooking?"

"Seein' as you 'ave asked me I'll say that it's a blinkin' sight better than quittin' it for tiddley-winks!" Douglas came to his feet. "I want you to meet Dad, Donald, and we'll find out when we are to start."

Andy patted his stomach contentedly. "Well, with this 'ere champagne under me belt, I think I'll start in 'ere and 'ave a drink and a fight in every bar from 'ere to Cordova Street. About meetin' you Donald," he added scratching his head reflectively, "the way I feel right now I think by tomorrow morning you'll find me in the bridal-chamber of the Vancouver Hotel." Saying which, with straightened shoulders, his head set at a characteristic angle, he swaggered down the street and with a wave of his hand disappeared within the swinging doors of the first saloon. In his present mood Andy envied no millionaire.

"You'll like Dad," said Douglas, as they ran up the steps of the big office building. "He's rather severe looking and pretty straight-laced, but the face he wears in the office isn't the face he wears at home." He finished with a laugh.

Robert Rennie was the sole owner of the Rennie Construction and Logging Company, one of the largest organizations of its kind on the Coast. He now rose from his chair and came around the desk, all the while studying Donald's face, which bore unmistakable traces of the afternoon's fight.

"Dad, this is Donald McLean, whom I told you about last night. I don't want to take up much of your time; just wanted you to meet Donald and find out when we can start on the trip to the mountains."

you, you can go any time; the sooner the better, as we expect to have the railroad to the summit in a few weeks," responded his father, his eyes still on Donald.

"Thanks, Dad," said Douglas. "We can be ready tomorrow and leave the next day."

"Douglas, will you please go to Bowser's office and get some papers he promised to have ready today?" asked Robert Rennie.

Donald moved toward the door with Douglas.

"Sit down, Mr. McLean, and wait until Douglas comes back," invited Robert Rennie politely, as he pushed a chair toward Donald. He then closed the door of the outer office, where a girl sat pounding a typewriter.

When the older man turned his face was set in a broad smile and he crossed the room to seize the hand of his astonished visitor in a hearty grip. "Man! man!" he exclaimed, as he pumped Donald's hand vigorously, "that was a great fight today! When you got Garreau with your left in the second round and that d—gong rang, I—I—heavens, but I was excited!" He was gazing at Donald with admiration glowing in his eyes.

"You—you were there!" gasped Donald.

Robert Rennie chuckled. "Top row—nigger heaven! When that brute fouled you I think I could have shot him!"

"Mr. Rennie, I'm not a professional fighter, I—I—"

"Tut! tut!" interrupted the enthusiastic fan, "I can see that. By gad! that last round was a whirlwind. That right you landed on his jaw—I got so excited that I fell down between the seats and skinned my shins." He rubbed his leg ruefully. "I never saw such speed as you showed in that last . . ."

Here footsteps sounded outside, Robert Rennie moved quickly to his chair, adjusted his glasses and assumed a serious expression. "Not a word to Doug," he whispered.

"Bowser says that he told you he'd have the papers tomorrow," informed Douglas.

"Very well," answered his father.

Donald turned as he was leaving the room and saw Robert Rennie close one eye in a wise wink.

CHAPTER VI.

At the breakfast table next morning Douglas was talking happily of their departure for Summit Lake.

"You'll have to hustle the work of timber cruising," his father admonished. "There won't be any time for play, as we expect to have the road finished in a few weeks."

"Don't worry, Dad. This is my first real job, and I am going to make good," declared Douglas stoutly.

"I hope so, Douglas. As you know, I want you to work your way up on your own merits. I'm not going to show any favoritism. We are going to put in a larger mill at Cheakamus, and one at Summit Lake, so there will be good opportunities for advancement for you and McLean if you show the right spirit."

"Is Mr. McLean going with you?" interposed Janet in a casual tone.

"Yes."

"How can he leave his business for so long?"

"He's not actively engaged in business just at present," explained Douglas glibly.

"You might ask him out to dinner tonight. I am having a few friends in for the evening."

"You bet I will."

Donald accepted Janet's invitation with alacrity. Living within four walls of a room and eating in restaurants had long since palled on his taste.

"Formal or informal?" he asked.

Douglas made a deprecatory gesture. "Formal, very formal. You don't know Janet or you wouldn't ask that question. My sister is a stickler for ceremony. How are you off for 'soup and fish'?"

"I have the necessities," smiled Donald.

Donald spent more than the usual time in dressing. He stood before the small mirror and surveyed himself with a critical eye. "Pretty soft for you," he apostrophized himself, "eating in ten-cent restaurants one day and dining in a millionaire's home the next, and on the invitation of the most beautiful girl you have ever met."

Douglas called for him with his car and whisked him to the palatial Rennie residence on Shaughnessy Heights. The imposing evidence of wealth was written in bold headlines on the whole street of beautiful homes.

Mrs. Rennie met them at the door and greeted Donald warmly. He could not repress a start as he noted her likeness to Janet, and when she spoke her voice held the same deep tone as her daughter's. She led him to a large room flanked by two enormous bays that looked out on the Avenue. There was a spaciousness in all the rooms, a rare combination of beauty and good taste in the furnishings, that were luxurious without being ornate. Robert Rennie came forward and gave him a cheery welcome. Donald heard Janet's voice behind him and turned to gaze on a vision of loveliness.

Janet had dressed for the occasion with unusual care. A dark red evening gown of a filmy material showed to advantage the delicate contour of her form and the graceful curve of her snow-white shoulders and neck. Her lovely hair was wound in shining coils and held with a comb that sparkled with small but brilliant diamonds. Her long dark lashes drooped, and she flushed slightly as she met Donald's look of undisguised admiration.

Mrs. Rennie was an excellent hostess. Her cultured and charming personality put Donald quite at ease. It seemed ages since he had worn a dress-suit and been entertained in a home of luxury and refinement. After the coarse fare of noisy restaurants which had been his, the excellent food, the rich linen, the home-like atmosphere and the subdued voices now gave him a pleasant thrill.

The conversation during dinner was on various subjects. At times it swung perilously near to matters pertaining to Donald's personal affairs. On such occasions Douglas adroitly shifted it to other channels.

Janet studied Donald covertly. His perfect poise, his air of refinement and his evident lack of self-consciousness impressed her. "He is cultured and well-bred," she thought as she noted his well-shaped head, his powerful shoulders and his clean-cut profile.

Near the finish of dinner, while waiting for coffee to be served, there came a lull in the conversation which was finally broken by Janet. "Doug tells me that you are engaged in the glove business, Mr. McLean," she stated.

Donald shot a quick glance at Douglas, but his friend's face was hidden in his handkerchief to smother a sudden attack of coughing. In spite of Donald's great effort at self-control, he felt a warm flush rise in his cheeks. What had Douglas divulged? Did his sister know of his participation in a boxing-match? He looked at Douglas appealingly. It was evident that he would receive no aid from that quarter, as that young man's assistance was a prolonged coughing that effectually drowned immediate conversation, but would have to stop sooner or later for lack of breath.

At this crucial moment Robert Rennie came to his assistance. "I would like Mr. McLean to witness a sunset from our roof," he said as he rose from the table. "Let us have our coffee served there. The light will be gone if we wait longer."

As they ascended the stairs Donald gave his host a grateful look, which Mr. Rennie returned understandingly. That moment cemented an instant friendship in Donald's heart for this broad-minded Western millionaire.

From the eminence of the tiny roof garden the City, sliced with streets, lay at their feet. To the north the mountains were invested with a mystic blue haze, through which towered the snow-clad peaks. To the west lay the curving white sands of English Bay, and beyond, in the clear air of the long British Columbia twilight, they could see the strong mountainous profile of Vancouver Island.

"The topography of our City," explained Robert Rennie, "lying between Burrard Inlet and False Creek, is very much like that of New York on Manhattan Island. The Narrows are deep enough for the largest ship afloat, and the Inlet—a veritable inland sea—has unlimited room for docks."

"The name 'Narrows' seems a feeble word for such a magnificent spot," observed Donald.

"Quite true," admitted Robert Rennie. "It was only yesterday that one of our public-spirited citizens suggested the name 'Lions' Gate.'"

"Oh, Dad, that would be lovely!" exclaimed Janet, her eyes shining. "The 'Lions' Gate,' with the two watchful Lions looking down on all who enter. The name is most fitting."

"Yes," concurred Douglas, "Canada being one of the Lion's whelps, what more appropriate name than 'Lions' Gate,' the western gateway to the British Empire?"

"The Creator was wonderfully kind to us in His allotment of mountains," said Janet's father; "mountains that are not only valuable for their scenic beauty, but for their mineral-filled rocks and forest-clad sides. Our bays, inlets and streams are filled with fish, and our climate is so mild on the Coast that man can live in comfort amid congenial surroundings the year round."

"Here we have the last of the Great West," continued Mr. Rennie. "With nearly four hundred thousand miles of territory, a coast line seven thousand miles in length, our population for the entire Province is less than one of the Coast cities to the south of us. Here in this vast untouched hinterland," swinging his arm to the north and east, "lies a potential wealth that will support millions, a wealth that is awaiting the magic touch of capital and settlers—capital to provide railways; farmers to till the rich valley; miners to unlock the vast hoards of gold and copper; and loggers to fell the virgin forests. Some day—and that day is not far distant—all this will come to pass, and you young folks will see a railroad from Vancouver to the Behring Sea." The speaker's face was flushed and his eyes were glowing. "Who knows," he finished dreamily, "but what the railroad I am building will be a link in the Alaskan road of the future?"

"Here is a family," thought Donald, "all native born, who have a deep and abiding faith in the destiny of the land of their birth."

Addressing Mr. Rennie, he said: "If the love that you and yours have for this Province is typical of the average citizen, I see no need to fear for the future of your country."

HOW ABOUT A WELL FOR THE RINK?

Two or three months ago the executive committee of the Carbon Curling Club decided that it was necessary to have a well dug for the curling and skating rinks, so that water would be available to flood the rink and keep the ice in condition throughout the winter. The weather has been ideal this fall, but as yet this well has not been completed. Last year at this time the snow was on the ground to stay and if the weather turns cold and the snow begins to fly now, the hopes for that well this fall will be shattered. Now is the time to get started on the work if it is going to be done. Can the committee not get together and decide on the matter at once?

Every line in a newspaper costs the proprietor something. If it is for the benefit of the individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many, that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent them to live. To give away rent for anything less than living rates is fatal to a newspaper as well as for a landlord to furnish rent free.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

A healthy woman is always good to look at, even although she may have no particular claim to beauty. A clear skin, bright eyes, vital hair and a well-set-up figure cannot fail to attract, and this can be obtained by guarding your health.

Doctors advise the daily drinking of at least six tumblers of water, one first thing in the morning, and one last thing at night. The water helps to cleanse out the system, leaving it thoroughly drained of all impurities.

The best foods to eat are green vegetables, fruit of all kinds, including oranges, lemons and apples, eggs, milk, butter, fish, and wholesome bread. In winter the daily diet should include fat in some form or another. Diet experts agree that meat is not a necessity. Fish is a good substitute.

With the first chill winds of autumn many women insist on heaping on extra clothing, but this is not the best way to avoid that shivery feeling. The clothing both for summer and winter should be sufficiently porous to enable free action of the skin to take place. Fifty years ago it was customary to wear six or seven under garments, three or four of which were composed of flannel. Today our clothing is much lighter and scantier, and everyone agrees that we are the healthier for it. The best plan is to wear light underclothing when the weather is cold.

So that the skin can play its part in the right way. It is necessary to wash frequently. If the pores are allowed to get clogged up with dirt or perspiration little pimples will result. To avoid this wash thoroughly first with warm water, and then rinse liberally with cold. It is not too often to bath every day, but hot baths should be taken just before going to bed.

Herbert Hoover will be the new president of the United States and will take office next February. Lord Nelson at Halifax Opened

Above, the Lord Nelson viewed as from the Botanical Gardens. Inset is a very charming corner of the lounge, showing the bust of Lord Nelson in the corner. Mr. E. W. Beatty was the guest of honor on the formal opening.

E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in speaking as guest of honor at the banquet which marked the official opening of the Lord Nelson Hotel at Halifax, referred to the tourist attractions of Nova Scotia as being second to none on the continent. This from a well travelled man as the head of the World's Greatest Travel System was a decided appreciation. "In addition to the opportunities for sport which are unsurpassed and attract tourists from both the United States and Canada, you have the historic associations such as typified by the Evangeline legend which the Canadian Pacific and Dominion Atlantic Companies have successfully preserved and featured. It seems to us only right that the railway which came into existence as a fulfilment of one of the terms of Confederation should encourage such travel to your cities and other historic places," he said. "That travel has grown apace during the last few years and it was because of this fact among others that at the solicitation of your business men we joined with them in the building of this hotel. It is for the same reason that we are building a modern hotel with other tourist facilities at Digby."

The Lord Nelson Hotel, while operated under the direction of the Canadian Pacific Railway is the result of a sincere effort on the part of the people of Halifax who have long been working for a modern hostelry which would adequately take care of the business which offered in the city. It is situated in the heart of the city and fronting on the Botanical Gardens that have helped to make this old city famous.

Within and without, the appearance of the hotel reflects great credit on its architects and builders. In building and in decoration it is Georgian in character, and throughout the hotel and particularly in the public rooms, a most successful effort has been made to express the period recalled by the historic name associated with it. Immediately inside the front doors is a handsome and spacious lobby, which at once gives the keynote of Georgian decoration. The hotel offices are here as also are other public services such as elevator lobby, telephone room, cigar shop, etc.

The mezzanine floor and ladies waiting room leads up from this, and on one side of the lobby is a short flight of steps leading up to the assembly lounge. In this room and in the adjacent assembly hall the attempt to recapture the atmosphere of two hundred years ago has been particularly successful. The chief feature is the fine fireplace over which is an excellent copy in oils of the full length portrait of Lord Nelson which was painted shortly before his death. In one corner stands a fine copy of the well known bust of this hero, and on the center table is a splendid model of his ship "The Victory."

The end of this room opens into the assembly hall which is large enough to seat about 250 people comfortably. At one end is an ample stage with the usual dressing rooms and disappearing footlights.

Leading from the other side of the lobby up a short flight of marble steps is a foyer, and beyond that the main dining room. On the floor beneath the lobby are a series of fine shops opening on the street, and here also is the spacious grill, which in keeping with the nautical flavour notable elsewhere in the building, is termed "The Ward Room."

Its woodwork is of oak and its ceiling crossed by beamed beams. It is lit by ships lanterns of brass and by candelabra designed from binnacle lights and ships steering wheels. The furniture also is of stout oak. Other features of this floor are a barber shop, beauty shop and the usual public services.

The bedroom floors include a number of fine suites of which the Royal Suite is an outstanding example. Like the other its character of decoration is in keeping with the rest of the hotel. It consists of sitting room, dining room and two bedrooms, and its furnishings include some fine examples of early Georgian. The bathrooms and general plumbing and heating arrangements throughout are up to the most modern standard as also are all the facilities for public service.

The Menace of Communism

The Sixth International Communist Congress held in Moscow this year declared its avowed policy "to concentrate Communist propaganda on the young people of the world," not on the young people of Russia, or even of Europe, but of the world.

Has that declaration any meaning for Canada? Is it one that the people of Canada need pay any attention to, or in regard to which they should take action?

Communism thrives where there is oppression, injustice, extreme poverty, lack of employment resulting in enforced idleness, and, inevitably arising from these conditions, general discontent. Satan still finds mischief for idle hands to do, and there is nothing quite so mischievous in the world today as Communism and its many pernicious doctrines.

Communism, therefore, found fertile ground in Russia owing to the centuries old oppressions and injustices of the old Tsarist regime, during which the most abject poverty and ignorance continued among the masses of the people alongside an aristocracy rolling in wealth and indulging in all forms of extravagance and luxury. The added sufferings, sacrifices and horrors of the Great War were all that was necessary to set the country aflame and provide the Communists with the opportunity they had long been awaiting.

In Canada, unlike Russia, there is no oppression of the people; injustice is not tolerated, and has only to be exposed to be remedied; cases of extreme poverty are rare indeed, and, when found, sympathetic governments, organizations and people respond to the call of need; work, as a rule, is available to all who are willing to work, and seasons of unemployment are but temporary and not a general thing; the overwhelming mass of the people are happy and contented. The soil of Canada is, therefore, not fertile ground for cultivation by the Communist agitator.

Nevertheless, Canada is not being ignored by the Communists of Russia in their visionary attempt to grasp world power through the overthrow of all institutions of law and order, all religions, the destruction of all present forms of government, and the confiscation of all property and other rights of individuals. The Communist will never be satisfied until he brings about a reign of terror and a condition of chaos in all countries similar to that created by him in Russia and in certain portions of China. Wherever there is trouble, whether political, social or economic, there the Communist sees his opportunity, and in the past Canada has not been free from manifestations of Communist intrigue and activity. And the Moscow authorities stand ever ready to finance and otherwise support all such efforts.

The Communist leaders realize, however, that they cannot make much headway with the adult populations of Canada, the United States, and the self-governing Dominions of the British Commonwealth. Hence their openly avowed intention to concentrate their propagandist activities on "the young people of the world."

And therein lies the danger to Canada. If in their youth while their minds are plastic and open to receive impressions, and before their characters are formed, the boys and girls of Canada, or of any country, can be inoculated with the virus of Communist disbelief in God and religion, Communist repudiation of all accepted ideas of morality as merely man-made restrictions on individual liberty, Communist rebellion against all constitutional systems of government and courts of law and justice, and Communist doctrine that there is nothing good but everything that is bad in all countries except Russia where, for the time being, Communism holds the whip hand and wields a lash over everybody who dares to voice even the mildest criticism of its methods.—If, we say, the youth of Canada can be infected with such ideas, then the very foundations of all that we revere and hold dear in Canada today are being very seriously undermined.

Communism is conducting such a campaign in Canada at the present time. The orders of the International Congress, at Moscow, are being carried out to the letter. Communist day schools and Soviet Sunday schools are being conducted, the most pernicious literature for children is being circulated, and every conceivable plan to attract the interest of the children is adopted and followed. In an age when there is a youthful tendency to scoff at religion as old-fashioned, God, the church, and all religion is openly as well as covertly attacked. Modern youth is encouraged to "go the limit" in throwing off the conventions and restraints of the past, and are ridiculed if they hesitate to do so. The sanctity of the home is laughed at, and parental, as well as all other forms of authority repudiated as forms of slavery and a denial of the rights of youth.

In setting their faces sternly against this disruptive thing, let the Canadian people see to it that no oppression, no injustice, no suffering through poverty or because of lack of work, is allowed anywhere in the Dominion. Let the churches forget their minor differences in doctrine or in forms of worship, and, instead of fighting each, unite their forces in order that effective warfare may be waged on a system which, if it is not destroyed, will ultimately destroy all churches and all religion, and, in destroying these great bulwarks, destroy also the home and the state, and lead to the damnation of the individual.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Canadian Arctic Expedition

Well On the Way To Frozen North,
Equipped With Radio

An example of the use of Canadian products by the Canadian Government in important scientific and exploration work comes with a report of the departure from Ottawa of the Canadian Arctic Expedition, organized by the Northwest and Yukon Branch of the Canadian Department of the Interior.

The expedition was under the direction of Major L. T. Burwash, well known Canadian Governmental explorer, who has spent much time in the far North. Press reports this summer indicated that Major Burwash was off on one of his solitary jaunts, but the general Canadian Arctic Expedition, according to information from Toronto, left that city in three parties.

All three parties were equipped with Eveready radio "B" batteries on the sets supplied for the expedition by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. Word has reached headquarters of the Canadian National Carbon Company that all branches of this Department are using Canadian National Carbon Company products.

Reports this summer on Major Burwash's activities indicate he was engaged in exploration of unusual scientific interest which promises to yield also an abundance of romance. He planned a jaunt of 5,000 miles by railroad, boat and dog team lading him at the magnetic pole, the trip being planned partly as a hunt for relics of the Arctic expedition of Sir John Franklin which ended in disaster in 1845.

Rumor sifting back occasionally from the frozen North has told that one of Franklin's two ships, the Erebus and the Terror, may be sighted in the Arctic Ocean near King William Land or Boothia Peninsula. If the ship can be found the Canadian Government will be enriched by the recovery of old relics and records believed to be aboard her.

Major Burwash also planned to investigate conditions among the Eskimos north of Mackenzie and Keewatin and the proposed tractor-train route from Wagner Bay on the West Coast of Hudson Bay to Cockburn Bay south of King William Land.

One of the primary purposes for the expedition assigned by press reports is to determine the westward shift of the magnetic pole so that mariners' charts may be corrected.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Rich, Red Blood To Maintain Good Health

After passing the age of forty every woman has reason to grow anxious about her health. This time of trial, with its attacks of faintness and fits of depression, its often violent headaches and back pains is rightly dreaded by women; but if reasonable steps are taken to safeguard the health, no serious ill-effects will arise. At this turning point in life Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given a helping hand to thousands of suffering women who were fighting a hopeless battle against poor health and waning strength.

The very best help for any woman of middle age is the health help given by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills reinforce the blood supply, enriching and purifying it. In doing this they nourish the starved and overtaxed nerves and give new strength and vitality to the whole system. By this natural process, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills completely dispel all pains and weakness, and a better, happier condition of health and spirits arises.

Every woman of middle age should take advantage now of the wonderful health-help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WILL GIVE AID TO SETTLERS FROM THE BRITISH ISLES

Ottawa. — Important announcements in regard to an increase in British assisted immigration are almost certain to follow the tour of Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, through the western provinces.

Mr. Forke has just returned and in the course of this trip interviewed the Premiers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, in their respective capitals. He went thoroughly into the various policies now being advanced by his department singly and in co-operation with the British Government, and, wherever possible, invited their active assistance.

The kind of assistance which the provinces may give is various. They may assist the Federal department in checking up the bona fides of persons within their boundaries who apply to Ottawa for aid in bringing their families out from Britain, or they may enter actively into a scheme of settlement and bear a part of the financial burden.

Mr. Forke had little to say of his trip, except that all the Premiers had been much interested in immigration problems and had promised to give the most careful consideration to the many suggestions which he had made.

There is ample time for such consideration since all the settlement work is done in the spring and early summer months, and, provided the Federal Department knows now much assistance it may expect from a province by the new year, the task of arranging for the movement of the settlers can be performed.

It would appear that the provinces were more interested in boy settlement than in the policies for older persons, and it is in this field that important announcements may be made.

Mr. Forke, it is understood, put forward a proposal whereby all boys brought out and placed on provincial training farms should be assisted to start up as farmers, provided they could save $500 out of their earnings. In this event the British and Canadian governments would put up $2,250, and would ask the provinces to advance 9250 which, coupled with the boys' savings, would make a fund of $3,000 which is considered to be ample to begin farming.

It is probable that the response of the provinces to this scheme will be enthusiastic and that a very big movement of boys will be inaugurated next year.

Serious Famine In Russia

Mobs In Moscow Are Openly Denouncing the Government

London, Eng.—Soviet Russia is in the throes of a famine which is reaching serious proportions, according to reports from Helsingfors and Riga, received by the Exchange Telegraph Company here.

Mounted police are patrolling Moscow and dispersing near-violent mobs whose leaders openly denounce the government, the Helsingfors report stated.

Foreign legations in Moscow are perturbed over the seriousness of the situation, although some, it is said, are disposed to welcome it because it affords them a legitimate reason for leaving.

In Leningrad similar scenes were enacted, according to the Riga report. There 750 women and children, after waiting in a bread line all night, were given apples. Angered, they used the apples to bombard the windows of food stores and threatened to lynch the food distributors. A large number were arrested and later released.

Spanish Royalty In London

London, Eng.—Queen Victoria of Spain, and her daughters, the Infantas Beatrix and Maria Christina, arrived here and were met at Victoria station by the King and Queen. The royal party will be the guests of Queen Victoria's mother, the Princess Beatrice, widow of Prince Henry of Battenberg.

Saskatchewan Leads In Grain Shipments

Peak Of Movement Passed In First Three Months Of Crop Year

Winnipeg.—"Fully 65 per cent. of the crop has been marketed since estimates have run around 530,000,000 bushels, and the railways have received 304 million bushels to date," is the report of J. G. Sutherland, superintendent of transportation for the Canadian Pacific.

"Saskatchewan is in the lead with 86,376,165 bushels dumped into elevator bins on Canadian Pacific lines, 79,073,723 bushels being wheat.

Manitoba has 35,144,225 bushels of all grains, including 19,530,015 bushels of wheat.

Alberta's marketings to date are 56,958,306 bushels all grains, 53,192,560 of which are wheat.

With such figures as proof, Mr. Sutherland holds the opinion that the peak of the movement has been passed in these first three months of the crop year.

Newfoundland Elections

Latest Returns Show That Government Has Been Defeated

St. John's, Nfld.—The opposition party of Sir Richard Squires overthrew the government of Hon. F. C. Alderdice in the general elections it became known when the results from twenty-nine of the thirty-seven districts had been received.

The election of the opposition candidates in St. John's City West and one opposition member in Burin West was conceded in the latest returns, while two seats in St. John's City East, and one in Burin East, were conceded to the government.

The opposition party has now secured twenty-three of a total of forty seats and nine government supporters have been returned.

Both Sir Richard Squires and Hon. F. C. Alderdice were elected. Sir Richard ran in Humber while Premier Alderdice contested St. John's City East.

Held Lucky Ticket

Quebec Bank Clerk Wins $35,000 On Handicap

Quebec.—Fred G. Moore, 18, a clerk in the employ of the Imperial Bank here, won the first prize of the Army and Navy Veterans' pool on the Cambridgeshire Handicap. His prize will amount to about $35,000. He drew Palais Royal II, winner of the race.

Fred Graham, Pontypool, Ont., who drew Baytown in the pool, will receive about $11,800 as second prize.

E. A. McLatchey, New Glasgow, N.S., holds the ticket on Insight II, placing third. McLatchey will get $5,900, the amount of the third prize.

Remain In Canada

5,000 British Harvesters Still Remaining In Canada

Ottawa.—With harvesting operations completed in the west and with 5,000 British harvesters still remaining in Canada, it is probable that the majority will become permanently established, department of immigration officials stated today. Reports from steamship companies to the department indicate that approximately 3,500 have returned to the British Isles.

From the fact that very few of the harvesters have applied at government employment bureau officials of the labor department believe that in the majority of cases they have found permanent work on western farms.

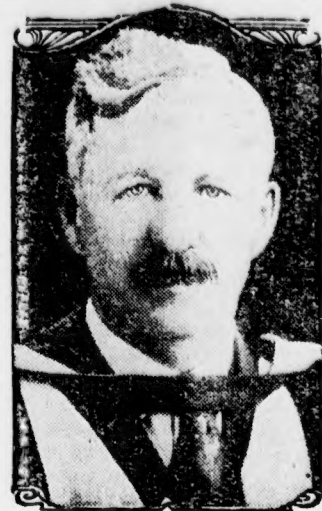

Eliminating Crow Pest

Campaign In Saskatchewan This Year Was Highly Successful

Regina.—The crow and magpie population of the province has been decreased by more than 1,000,000 as a result of the activities of 4,230 contestants for the 1,500 prizes offered by the Provincial Department of Railways, Labor and Industries in the 1928 crow campaign, according to the report in the Public Service monthly issued for last month.

"The success of the competition may be gauged by the results which show that 465,953 legs, and 681,716 eggs were collected. Actually, therefore, the enemy suffered a total loss of 914,692 before hostilities closed, September 1."

Brilliant Meteoric Display Predicted

Shooting Stars Will Be Seen From November 10 To 17

Montreal.—Meteoric displays of striking brightness are predicted to occur for a period lasting from Nov. 10 to 17 inclusive, according to an announcement from Harvard College University, received at McGill, by Prof. A. Vibert Douglas, lecturer in physics and secretary of the Montreal centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

These displays, commonly known as shooting stars, will be seen in the northern sky south of the constellation of the Great Bear, better known as the Dipper. The shooting stars will be best observed after midnight until four o'clock in the morning, and will be seen as bright flashes across the sky.

Receives Prize For Research

London, Eng.—F. C. Banting, in receiving the Cameron prize for research at Edinburgh University, told how he discovered insulin. He was in London, Ont., when he read an article which so affected him he could not sleep that night and at two o'clock in the morning he was able to crystallize his ideas which led to his successful experiments.

Famine Stalks In China

Babies Being Killed On Account Of Lack Of Food

Shanghai, China.—The China international famine relief is being flooded with appeals from the stricken districts, particularly in Shansi, where, it is declared, "babies are being killed because there is nothing to feed them with and children are being sold for a mere song."

Thousands of persons are said to be living on the bark and leaves of trees. In addition to Shansi the famine includes districts in Kwangsi, Sulyan, Hupeh, Hunan and Honan.

A magistrate of Yang Hsien in a letter estimates that there are 200,000 famine sufferers, owing to the drought and the devastations of the "Red Spears" a guerilla organization. The situation in Shansi, the magistrate declares, is unprecedented, children being sold openly in the market by parents eager for cash. In Hunan thousands are on the verge of starvation, due to the banditry, communist uprisings, the Red Spears and drought.

Contractors Supply Stilts For Workmen

Innovation Of Toronto Firm To Eliminate Costly Scaffolding

Toronto.—As an innovation in the building trade, a firm of Toronto contractors provided six-foot stilts for their workmen. The plan was to do away with costly scaffolding.

Surprised and indignant at the plan, two workmen refused to don the stilts and reported to officials of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners that they lost their jobs as a result.

William Varley, secretary of the Building Trades Council, is investigating to discover whether the use of stilts would be a contravention of city or provincial statutes.

Cities May Have Own Aerodrome

London, Eng.—An aerodrome in every city in Britain is the program put forward by the air ministry. Realization of the program depends on the city councils finding the money and therefore it will not be immediate. Manchester and Nottingham have already purchased land for aerodromes and Leeds, Hull and Liverpool are expected soon to follow their example.

Militia Officers Committed

Hamilton, Ont.—Three officers of the Third Canadian Machine Gun Battalion, one of whom is alleged to have drawn his sword on a police officer, were committed for trial by Magistrate Jelfs, on charges of assaulting two police officers who arrested them at the Thistle Club.

GRAF ZEPPELIN LANDS SAFELY IN HOME PORT

Friedrichshafen, Germany.—Completing the first round-trip commercial trans-Atlantic flight, the Graf Zeppelin landed at the aerodrome here with passengers and mail from America.

The airship, coming from Lakehurst, N.J., made the fastest crossing of the Atlantic by a lighter-than-air machine, covering a distance of 4,003 miles.

Since leaving Friedrichshafen on the morning of October 11, the Graf Zeppelin had flown approximately 10,000 miles. Going by the southern route on the westward flight, she flew 6,000 miles in 111 hours and 38 minutes.

The Graf Zeppelin arrived over her home port just 63 hours and 56 minutes from the start of her flight.

The airship thus established a new record for eastward flight by a dirigible across the Atlantic. The British dirigible R-34, in 1919, made the only previous eastward flight from Roosevelt Field to England in 75 hours.

It was revealed that the Zeppelin encountered heavy storms while flying over central France forcing Dr. Eckener to alter his course considerably, missing Paris. The speed also was reduced to less than 50 miles an hour.

With the approach of the dirigible the population of the town, swelled many times its normal size, was aroused by volleys of saluting shots. The people rushed pell-mell to the aerodrome, where the crews of the Zeppelin works were already assembled at the hangar. It was raining but there was no wind.

The airship, after allowing the cheering thousands a brief glimpse of her great form, rapidly passed out of sight and then reappeared a little later over Lake Constance. Throughout the town the church bells were ringing frantically and a cannonade of saluting shots was being fired constantly. Numerous searchlights played upon the silvery sides of the dirigible as it passed over the town.

H. A. McDonald, Champion.

Meetings of the directors of the Alberta Horse Breeders' Association and the Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association were also held.

Armistice Day Letters

Two Million Letters Sent To America From France

La Havre, France.—Two million letters, the largest mailing ever sent from France, have started to America on the French steamer Rochambeau. They are timed for delivery to American women about Armistice Day.

These letters, although advertising matter, have been turned to propaganda uses. They have been addressed by hand by French war widows and are sealed. The idea is that American women getting a letter from France on Armistice Day will think of the country where many sent their sons or husbands to war.

Heavy Mail By Zeppelin

Washington.—The Graf Zeppelin carried 101,683 pieces of mail back to Germany, for which the German postal administration will be credited with $75,713 by the United States postal service. The mail, weighing about one ton, consisted of 49,715 letters and 51,938 postcards.

A CASTLE IN IRELAND

Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles are shown above at the doorway of their Portumna castle, in Ireland, where they were accorded a royal welcome upon their recent visit. Shortly before their arrival the stables of the castle were set afire, apparently by a fanatic, but Lord Lascelles requested that no punishment be meted out to the culprit.
